

Vertical Stack Rail (USR) System

MagneGrip offers a Vertical Stack Rail System for vehicles that have vertical stack exhausts. No manual connection is required. As the apparatus enters the firehouse, the stack catcher adjusts horizontally to align the suction rail with the vertical stack exhaust.

An auto-start sensor is located in the airtight suction rail. As it detects air movement, the exhaust fan switches on and draws the exhaust emissions through the suction rail and vents them outside.